It is an art of thinking and reasoning in strict accordance with the limitations and incapacities of the human misunderstandings, that's why some times irrelevant statements are given and on the basis of which we have to draw conclusions.

Types of Statements

(a) Universal Statements (All Type Statements)

(1) Universal Affirmative/Positive

i.e. All A's are B's

Note : Converse : All B's Are A's is a Possibility

(2) Universal Negative : All A's are not B

Converse : All B's are not A

(b) Particular Statements

(3) Particular Affirmative/Positive

Some A's are B's

Converse : Some B's are A's

(4) Particular Negative

conclusions are wrong.

Statements: All mangoes are apples.
Some apples are stones.

Sol. :

Conclusion : All stones are apples.

Statements: Some trees are buses.
All buses are hats.

Sol.

Conclusion : I. Some trees are hats.
